The eleventh president of Indiana University was educated in the Indiana Public School system in which both his father and his mother were teachers.

The future university president entered the University of Illinois in 1920 but a year later transferred to Indiana University where he received the B.S. degree in 1924 and the M.A. in 1927. This was followed by further graduate study at the University of Wisconsin.

Musical Production Set For Next Thursday Night

Western Players are already in the final stages of preparation for their last production of the school year, "Sing Out, Sweet Land," to be presented on Thursday evening, May 15, at 8:15 in Van Meter Auditorium.

The new musical production is under the direction of Russell H. Miller. Pearl Rutledge is choreographer with Robert S. Pearson as music consultant. Clarence Miller and June Mitchell are doing the accompaniment.

As originally produced by the Theater Guild on Broadway, "Sing Out, Sweet Land" was a starring vehicle for Alfred Drake, singing star of the original "Oklahoma" and "Kiss Me Kate."

Arin McKeel, head of the costume committee, has placed orders for over four hundred dollars worth of costumes to make "Sing Out" the biggest and best musical production the Players have given in the past three years.

Scenic Artists including Hal Gomer, Joe Kimbrough, Macon Ray, June Carroll Lewis, Paul Koenen, Phyllis Blakeman and Sanford Cox have been busy on the setting required for the trip through American history that the play takes.

Bob Carter's construction crew is busy with everything from New England stocks to the "Pearly Gates."

In the Western Players' version of "Sing Out, Sweet Land," Gary Roberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Holston Roberts, plays George Washington in the colonial Virginia sequence. Gary is making his third appearance with the Players, having already been credited with performances as the youngest of Days in "Life with Father" and the neighbor in "All My Sons."

We at Western should feel proud that we are going to this school because apparently it is known throughout the nation. Western graduates have given the school a good name wherever they are. As proof of this statement the following letter from Otis W. Allen, president of the National Teacher's Directory Service in Greenwood, Mississippi, is offered.

April 25, 1952

EDITOR, COLLEGE HEIGHTS HERALD
WESTERN KENTUCKY STATE COLLEGE
BOWLING GREEN, KENTUCKY.

Dear Editor:

I just came back from the annual Convention of the Mississippi Education Association in Jackson, Mississippi.

We had a most outstanding convention this year with many excellent programs in the general areas and also in the sciences. The one that would no doubt interest all Kentuckians was entitled, "The Quest for an Educational Program" by Dr. Paul E. Elicker, Executive Secretary of the National Association of Secondary Principals, Washington, D. C. Dr. Elicker has been a classroom teacher, a principal and several other types of servant to education in the Boston, Massachusetts and the New York areas. He is of course now located in the NEA Headquarters in Washington, D. C. He did an excellent job of showing the progress of free public education from its beginning at Boston in the year 1635 to the present time. To me it was both interesting and thrilling to find the efforts and successes of James Alton of the Vine Grove, Ky. schools praised more highly than any other unit mentioned.

Much was said about the community analysis, the community centered school, and the academic progress being made for the largest possible number of boys and girls, and also he returned to the Vine Grove situation in the summary of the address.

At the close of the address I presented myself to Dr. Elicker as Otis W. Allen, Head of the Science Department of the Greenwood, Mississippi High School, and one of the ten (10) members of the 1950 Graduating Class of the Vine Grove High School Vine Grove, Kentucky. Dr. Elicker was quick to ask if he had exaggerated the account and if all of the developments that have received national attention were true. He was pleased to learn of my assurance.

I expect the good being accomplished by the graduates of Western Kentucky State College is pretty generally shared by the nation when a person from Boston, Massachusetts tells a Mississippi audience in the presence of a Western graduate of the success being done by a true son of Western.

With every good wish,

Sincerely yours,
Otis W. Allen

"SING OUT, SWEET LAND"

Those of us who remember last year's musical production "Southside U. S. A." by the Western Players are confident that we have a treat in store on the night of May 15. On that date the Players will present their new musical "Sing Out, Sweet Land." Part of the cast which gave us such a great production last year are back again.

To those who missed last year's production, take this word of advice from the ones who were present. "You can't afford to miss 'Sing Out, Sweet Land.'"

TALISMAN BALL

April 26 was a day of revision for some students here on the Hill. These revisions came from the few who had predicted the failure of this year's Talisman Ball. Now they all say it was one of the best they have ever attended while on the Western campus.

The decorations, taking the form of a large southern mansion, transformed Western's gymnasium into the perfect setting for a spring dance.

All credit for the organization of this outstanding event must be given to the Talisman staff, for they are the ones who made it possible. Our congratulations to them for a swell job.

Why Not Join?

That which it is hoped will grow and develop into a campus-wide project has begun—a cleanup campaign for the Hill.

Recently, a sophomore thinking representatively of the student body, decided that much of the beauty of our campus was marred or even hidden by increasing secondary growth and trash which has collected over a period of years.

With this undesirable living situation evident before him, (and the rest of us) he set to work to initiate a campaign to do something about it.

The Kentucky Building grounds were chosen as the starting point, in the belief that nearly all visitors who come to the campus, from high school students to out-of-state tourists, make it a point to see the museum and library. If its grounds are clean and well-kept, the reflection upon Western as a whole will be a good one.

Mrs. Frank Moore, Kentucky librarian, was one of the first to get behind the project and help to start its operation.

Already the pool on the Kentucky Building grounds has been cleaned out and filled with fresh water. This, however, is by no means the end, but only a beginning phase. More work is planned for beautification of the Kentucky Building area and will begin immediately.

The initiator of this purposeful undertaking is D. Mac Caldwell, a Geography major from Williams-town, Ky. Working with him at present are Sanford Cox, Kenneth Gordon, Paul Keonen, and Harold Robinson. This crew borrowed tools and worked in their spare time to get the project well underway.

Mr. R. C. Woodward superintendent of grounds, has fallen in behind these students and his crew has aided in the digging and hauling.

Caldwell and the other interested workers do not expect an overnight transformation of the Hill. That would be impossible, in the light of all that there is to be done. This, rather, is a test project which they hope will spread into a series of operations that will take in the whole campus and bring about its gradual transformation into a much more beautiful one.

Our campus was designed by the famous New York landscape artist, the late Henry Wright, and it is recognized as being among the prettiest campuses of the South. Therefore, we are compelled to do nothing new, but only to revive the beauty which is already here.

May we, who are every one fortunate in being students at Western, actively participate in accomplishing this task that an industrious few have so enthusiastically begun. May we all help make our campus one any college would be proud to display.

With the reading of this, do not dismiss the idea from your mind, but join in and be a part of this worthwhile plan.

Such a starved bank of moss
Till that May-morn,
Blue ran the flash across;
Violets were born.

—Robert Browning.

The heavenly intent of earth's shadows is to chasten the affections, to rebuke human consciousness and turn it gladly from a material, false sense of life and happiness, to spiritual joy and true estimate of being.

—Mary Baker Eddy.

Baseballers Take 4 Victories During Past Two Weeks

The past two weeks have found the "Topper" baseball team busy working on four victories over David Lipscomb, Murray, Tennessee Tech, and Evansville. They now have four more games remaining before the OVC playoffs which will start on May 21-22. Their next test will be down at Cookeville where the Eagles will be out for revenge.

Don McGuire pitched the Red and Gray to a 7-3 win over Lipscomb on April 26. Four-hit pitching and two home-runs by Jimmy Hale and Eddie Wyatt supplied the home team with their winning combination.

Hale climbed on his four-bagger in the fifth inning with a blow that landed on the far side of the right-field terrace. Then in the next frame Wyatt came up with Dyke Vest aboard and walloped one that bounced between the two outfielders for a double that Wyatt stretched into a homer when the two fielders piled into each other.

Get 20 Hits
In the Murray game on the 28th it was a rock-it-to-tem story as Western hit safely 20 times and came across the plate 17 times in their victory which found the Thoroughbreds with but two runs.

Dan King spread out seven hits over the first six innings and got credit for the victory, his first. The only run off him was unearned. Lefty Lawrence French finished up and yielded and earned run in the eighth.

Vest led the attack with four for five at the plate, all singles. Virgil Hoffman, the Hilltoppers' new short-stop, slapped a double and two singles in five attempts.

Tennessee Tech came from behind in the fatal last inning to score seven runs and almost overtake the "Toppers." They had scored three runs in the eighth frame to throw the first scare into the hearts of the home team.

Lead Tech 10-0

Leading Tech 10-0 after four innings and breezing along with a shutout until that eighth, the Hilltoppers looked like the most solid club Coach Diddle has fielded in quite a few years. They showed a lot of hustle, hitting power, pitching and fielding finesse.

Gene Rhodes scattered three hits over the first six innings and allowed only two batters to get as far as second. He struck out six, issued three passes and looked as good as last year.

Art Spoelstra came into the game in the seventh when Rhodes' arm tired and he immediately found himself in trouble as three tallies came across in the eighth and then the seven in the final frame.

Take Evansville 5-5

Catcher Dyke Vest helped make it a 3-1 won-loss record in the OVC on May 3 with his home run in the fifth inning against Evansville as the "Toppers" registered a 5-5 win over the Aces.

An early 3-0 Evansville lead was melted by the clubbing of Vest and Jimmy Hale, while Dan King moved to the mound in relief and emerged with his second victory.

King scattered four hits over the last 5½ innings. He gave up two unearned ninth-inning runs. Don McGuire started the game. But he didn't have it in this particular game after hurling two previous wins.

Hale joined Vest in the slugging department with a two-run homer in Western's big five run fifth inning and a single in the two run sixth.

This game brought the overall record of the team to six wins against one loss not including the game this past Tuesday with Middle Tennessee State.

Tech Takes 2nd Track Meet From Western Thinlies

Despite some fine field events turned in by the Western thinlies, the Tennessee Tech Eagles came to the hill to whip the "Toppers" for the second time this year 73-50.

Sam Short turned in a record breaking job in the pole vault as he won with a leap of 12 feet even. On this 12 foot jump by Short he cleared the bar by a good three and perhaps six inches which would have added to his successful day. He was too tired to get away a successful jump at the higher level however.

Max Stevens added another of the few Western highlights when he broad jumped 21 feet, 6¼ inches. This was Stevens' best jump and also one of the best jumps on this track. It bettered by half an inch the winning jump in the OVC meet at Cookeville last year.

Tech took nine of 14 events in the meet, but the Hilltoppers took quite a few seconds and thirds. Those places still didn't make up enough points to get within 18 tallies of the visitors.

Western won their first meet in three tries at Murray on May 3, by a 65-57 score. Freshman Lynn Cole contributed 11 points to the Hilltopper victory with a first in the high jump and seconds in the high hurdles and the pole vault.

Bubber Simpson ran off with two firsts in the 100 yard dash and the low hurdles. Western didn't sweep an event, and only amassed eight of 14 first places in the eight point win.

Tennis Team Wins Four Straight; Loses To U.K.

The Hilltopper tennis team won their fourth straight match this spring with a 5-3 victory over the Eastern Maroons on the Richmond courts.

The featured No. 1 singles match saw Roger Otten knock off his arch rival, and also the only one that has beaten him in college play, Paul Trieschman, 6-3, 6-2, for his 27th win in 28 starts since he began as a freshman.

Eastern evened things somewhat, however, in the doubles when Trieschman teamed with Don Augsback to defeat one of the best doubles teams in the state collegiate competition in straight sets.

In the other matches on down the line; Tom Qualley (W) won from Karl Hones, 6-2, 6-2; Augsback (H) beat Billy Darke, 6-1, 7-5; Billy Parker defeated Bob Rankin, 6-3, 6-4; and in the fifth singles Marion Chestnut (W) whipped Roger Ceyer 6-2, 9-7.

In the second doubles match, Parker and Darke defeated Jones and Rankin, 6-1, 7-5.

With Western out in front of the University of Kentucky 3-2 after the completion of the singles and confident of at least one of the doubles teams coming through to clinch the victory, both of the doubles teams lost to give Kentucky the two points they needed to win the match.

The OVC championship playoffs for the tennis team are to be held here next weekend.

High School Tennis Tournament Scheduled On Western Courts

The regional high school tennis tournament is scheduled for Western's courts, Thursday, May 22. Hilltopper Coach Ted Hornback, tournament manager, announced recently.

Hornback has sent invitations to the following schools: Bowling Green High, College High, Glasgow, Tompkinsville, Bardonia, Hodgenville, St. Joe and Caverna.

Trophies will be presented to the winning schools and individuals. Expenses of the singles and doubles champions will be paid to the state tournament at Bellvue, May 26-27.

Any player who participates in the regional is eligible for the state meet.

Western won three of the five individual matches. Tom Marshall and Billy Kemp joined Pickel as victors. But the Aces had a four point margin in best ball to swing the tide.

It was the second loss in five matches for Western. Earlier in the season Western nudged Evansville, 10-8.

G. G. Craig Publishes New Penmanship Book

Professor G. G. Craig, head of the Penmanship department at Western, placed his new penmanship book, "Owl-phabets' Circus," on sale April 28.

The new book is intended to motivate handwriting and the use of the National Standard Alphabet which was adopted in 1917 at Cleveland by the National Association of Penmanship Teachers and Supervisors.

According to Mr. Craig, the present handwriting manuals adopted for use in Kentucky schools, do not conform to the National Standard Alphabet. Some of the manuals, he says, on the approved list do contain the National Standard Alphabet and should be given preference by adopting boards under the new law.

Mr. Craig, in the foreword to his new book which he calls the "Owl-phabets' Neet," says "Penmanship is the art of producing a graceful line with sweeps and pauses, and swings and stops in a co-ordinated, rhythmic movement to form legible characters. Letters have an exact place to begin, cross and finish."

Mr. Craig says a teacher can entertain himself and the students, and at the same time greatly improve penmanship with "Owl-phabets' Circus." The new and enlarged edition is somewhat different from the first edition which sold 8,000 copies. The cover contains the picture of an owl plus P-h-a-b-e-t-s, making it read: "Owl-phabets' Circus." The word "Circus" is dressed up like a cat.

Prof. G. G. Craig

Copies of the new book may be obtained by writing to G. G. Craig, Bowling Green, Ky. Mr. Craig states that although the new enlarged edition of "Owl-phabets' Circus" costs over eight times as much to publish as the first edition, the price of the new book is listed at only 50 cents plus ten cents for handling and mailing.

Mr. Craig received the Master's degree in Commerce at the University of Kentucky in 1935, where he wrote his thesis on The Advanced Handwriting Scale.
